Description

A beautiful early 19th century decanter in a "mallet " shape with a star cut base. It has a facet and hobnail cutting to the body and three rings to the neck to give the user a good grip when pouring from the decanter. The spherical stopper is also hobnail and star cut. This handsome decanter would love perfect on the dinner party table filled with your favourite wine or liquor. It would also make a lovely Christmas or birthday present for the 'man who has everything' or for an original 'house warming present'. Condition: The decanter is in good original condition circa 1820 and the glass stopper has a vey small chip to the base (show in the photos). We are retiring soon so would like to offer 10% off all our items that are currently full price. Dimensions: Height 11 inches - 28cm Width 4.5 inches - 12cm
