Description

Excellent Victorian Oak Narrow Bookcase - Hand Carvings A wonderful example of an open fronted Oak Bookcase - c1870. The piece is complete with James Phillips label - see the link below to an article written in 1961 for more regarding the company: <http://www.flickr.com/photos/brizzlebornandbred/2130788192/> This bookcase offers good storage space and versatility as the shelves are adjustable for height and the piece is conveniently narrow in dimension. The Oak finish is complemented by corinthian column detailing to the front. Atop each column is a fine hand carving. The bold top is in balance with the plinth creating a look of solidity to the item. A wonderful item of furniture classically styled and of very good craftsmanship. It will look fantastic wherever it is located.
