Description

Large 18th Century Oak Gate Leg Dining Table This is a large and magnificent table, the table is made from solid Oak, a rare and much prized wood by cabinet makers. This is a large table with a gate leg at each side to support the large deep leaves, it has attractive turned legs and plain stretchers with a carved edge around the table top. The table dates from the mid 18th Century and when fully extended has a slightly oval top, the table also has a drawer at one end. The table has seen a few repairs in its lifetime, none of these are recent and it is good condition for its age. The table is strong and big enough to seat 8 or more diners when fully open. The table stands 30" high and 55" x 23" when closed and 55" by 65" when fully extended. GF33
