Description

Early Victorian Burr Walnut Sutherland Dining Table. A stunning ornate Sutherland dining table. This is a marvellous example of an early Victorian drop leaf Sutherland dining table in solid Walnut believed to be made around C1870. Featuring the most stunning book matched burr Walnut tiger grain veneer to the tops complete with a beautiful rich original colour and a high glaze French polished finish. The table tops are supported by a very ornate Sutherland base with 2 turned, fluted and carved pillars to a lovely shaped and carved base with flower carvings to the top. This table has a very small and narrow overall form yet is versatile from having 2 large drop-down leaves managing to comfortably seat 4 people and be used as a dining room, breakfast table or occasional/hall table. This table features 2 turned, fluted and carved legs 2 of which are hinged on finger joints to support the leaves when opened. This table benefits from having its original solid polished brass castors complete with typical early Victorian white porcelain wheels to all legs which aids its easy movement. The table is constructed in a solid way with tight joints and the tops are flat and not ...
