Description

Original Georgian Mahogany Pembroke Centre Table. A stunning Mahogany table. This is a marvellous example of a Georgian Pembroke centre table believed to be made around C1820. This original table has a top with 3 planks with no glued joints and the tabletops are all made from the finest quality Mahogany. The fantastic table has a lovely lustrous highly glazed French polished finish with its lightly faded original colour with patina. This table features the ability to extend via 2 drop leafs along the length which are supported by 4 shaped support brackets on finger joints. Under the tabletop is 1 very useful drawer to the one end and a dummy drawer to the other featuring cock-beaded drawer edges and its 4 original polished brass handles. This original table stands on a central finely turned support column which goes to 4 moulded sabre shaped legs on its original solid polished square toe brass cup castors. With this being a centre table there are many possibilities for placement with configurations such as behind a sofa, as a breakfast/dining table or along the wall in a large hallway. We have just cleaned and waxed to give a natural shine and enhance the surface...
