Description

A rare and beautiful original ink and watercolour by Cecil Charles Windsor Aldin, signed in full lower right, and depicting members of the South Berkshire Hunt of which Aldin was the Master, with a green border. Having jumped the hedge, the rider is almost unseated, his top hat flies off and his feet leave the stirrups... holding on for dear life and at full gallop! Full of life and humour, beautifully executed and with charming chasing terrier painted in the margin. . Original wooden panel backboard and ready to hang. . Retaining original mount and frame. The image is in very good original and unrestored condition, the reeded ebonised frame original also with minor knocks and marks. . Cecil Aldin was born in Slough, Berkshire in 1870. His father was a keen amateur artist and Cecil began to draw at a young age and studied under Albert Moore in London and studied animal anatomy at the National Art Training School, later attending the school of William Frank Calderton in Sussex. . He rented a studio in Chelsea in 1892 and his drawings of animals at London Zoo, of his own dogs and of dog shows were published. He began a long association with The Illustrated London News a...
