Description

study of a seated clumber spaniel, oil on canvas, signed and dated 1929 lower left. Housed in a new gilt frame. Paintings of these beautiful dogs are rare, almost as rare as the breed themselves. This artist rarely paints dogs which makes this even more special. The size of this painting is 42 cm x 51 cm whilst overall the size is 66 x 56 cm in overall very good condition ready to hang. The Clumber Spaniel is the largest of the spaniels, and comes in mainly white with either lemon or orange markings. The name of the breed is taken from Clumber Park in Nottinghamshire where the breed was developed. Clumbers originally were not available for sale only gifted to the nobility. William Albert Clark (1880-1963) William Albert Clark was a British painter who was born in 1880 specialised in portraits of horses, sometimes with their jockeys, or carriages and drivers. He also painted prize cattle and the occasional dog portrait. You can find his work in national trust houses and galleries.
