Description

This is an antique oval Sutherland table. An English, satin mahogany gate-leg occasional table, dating to the early Victorian period, circa 1850. Graced with exquisite figuring and deep colour Displays a desirable aged patina and in very good order Striking satin mahogany stocks present superb grain interest beneath a wax polish finish Bronzed caramel hues react beautifully to the light Of useful breakfast table or tea service proportion when extended Substantial drop flaps extend the seating area into an oval for four In the folded position, the narrow profile ideal for storing in the smaller room Fascinating wheeled gate legs add support for each leaf Elegantly turned baluster legs united with a stretcher rail between arched trestle feet The whole riding smoothly upon a set of six brass castors This is an eye-catching antique oval Sutherland table, presenting fine colour and bountiful grain interest. Ideal for occasional use and compact when folded. Solid joints and construction, delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home.
