Description

The corroded brown field of this early, colourful Kurdish weaving really adds to the excitement of this beautiful, rare rug. An amazing colour palette of greens, purples, reds and blues is highlighted in islands of colour where the brown has dropped away. Highly patinated wool has a shimmery surface which is what the connoisseur of this kind of collectable rug look for. A very collectable rug which could form the centrepiece of a truly great collection. Early 19th century. 4'1" x 8'3"
