Description

A Fine Victorian gilt masked striking Carriage Clock c1890 ~~~ Excellent original condition throughout ~~~ This is an original Victorian striking carriage clock dated to around 1890. It has a superb polished brass dome topped case which is most unusual. The enamel dial is set in a beautiful soft textured gilt mask frame with fleur de lys hands. It is in excellent condition, bright and clean yet showing the beautiful patina which you expect from a clock of this age. The movement is of very high quality, runs for a full 8 days and keeps good time, it strikes the hours and the half hours on a tuned gong. The original enamel gilt masked dial is perfect with no hairline cracks or chips. All of the glass panels are perfect with no cracks or chips. The movement is in excellent clean and running condition having just undergone a complete and comprehensive overhaul by Alan Williams of Plymouth Clocks who is a fellow of the British Horological Institute so you can be assured that this clock will give trouble free service for many many years before requiring any further attention. The platform escapement is original and the striking functions correctly. A beautiful high qua...
