Description

An oversized ovoid cizhou wear jar. Depicting unusual rich blue hand-painted decoration on a soft white ground. This tall ceramic jar was originally used for pickling. The combination of an irregular surface with a subtle ridged pattern along the side gives this tall vessel an understated sculptural presence. Presenting a wide opening to the rim - perfect for housing plants. Can be used either inside or outside, but would recommend that this pot is protected from the frost during colder months. Height - 53 cm Width - 38 cm Depth - 38 cm
