Description

This is a gorgeous designed 20th century iron and black marble console table. The elegant design and the grey coloured base give this table a great decorative feel that will sit well in a large number of interiors. Wonderful metal work has created the stunning shapes of the base and then the striking black marble really lifts the whole piece. It has an edge to the back of the table which means this could be converted into a wash table easily. Overall condition very good with no major issues.
