Description

Victorian Military chest This Victorian Military chest was made circa 1870. It is made of teak with brass corners and the rare plate inset handles. This would have been commissioned by a British officer whilst at his posting in India. Teak was a popular choice for timber as this has the qualities of being strong and also resistant to sea water, ideal for when this was to be transported overseas as it was lashed to sailing vessels. It is made in the 2 sections to allow it to be transported with ease. Its brass corners being of a good gauge and secured into place, these were to protect the chests corners as it was being transported. To each side you have the original carrying handles, these are painted steel. Imagine the joy of ownership, the conversations that you will have with family and friends as you wonder at the episodes this would have experienced, if only it could talk!! 107cms wide 42ins 50cms deep 19 1/2ins 107cms high 42ins All Measurements are as accurate as possible Delivery UK mainland FREE Other destinations please contact us, and we will get a quote.
