Description

A very smart and useful antique mahogany chest of drawers. This was made in England, it dates from around the 1900-1910 period. The quality is superb, this is very well made and is a practical size. It is low and compact, yet offers plenty of storage in the three deep drawers. There is also a useful pull out brush slide shelf that pulls out from beneath the top. This sits on bracket feet, and has lovely original brass handles. We have had it recently re-polished, the condition is fantastic for its age.
