Description

For sale a rare mid Victorian medical post mortem instrument set by S Maw Son & Thompson. Beautifully preserved in its mahogany and brass bound campaign style case and with crimson velvet three level, fitted interior. The set matches precisely an example which the company advertised in their catalogue of 1870 and includes the following instruments: Skull Saw (Lid section) Catlin knife (Lid Section) 2 x Bone chisels (Base section) Note: All fitting one chequered ebony spring socket handle also contained in the case. Chequered ebony handle brain knife (Base section) Chequered ebony handle costotome hammer (Base Section) Chequered ebony handle small bone chisel (Base section) Spine Wrench (Lid section) Bowel Scissors (Lid section) Six Scalpels of varying sizes (Base Section) Set of chain hooks (Base compartment) Suture needles and thread (Base compartment) German silver Blowpipe (Base compartment) Skull rest (Base section) A truly wonderful and less common set of surgical instruments which remain in superb and complete condition other than a pair of post mortem scissors which would have been positioned behind the saw in the lid section. The case also retains i...
