Description

A Georgian period, mahogany tilt-top tripod table, Circa 1810. Of small proportions, ideal for a wine or side table. A circular top, from a single piece of well figured solid mahogany, with tilt mechanism. Supported by a fine ring turned stem, raised on a tripod of cabriole legs on pad feet. The unusual size of this charming little table makes it highly functional and desirable. A couple of flaws, but with good colour, polish and patina. Ready for use. Dimensions: This table measures approximately 53 cm (21") tall, and 43 cm (17") in diameter. Condition: Please see the pictures for details of the items condition. - This table is in good condition, commensurate with its age, and is structurally sound and sturdy. Good colour, pleasing patina, and a good polish. Some marks to the top, but well polished in. An old but quality repair to the top of the stem and the joint above one leg. A slight lean in the block at the top of the stem, which makes the top not quite angled flat. Though not enough to tip a drink or make it unsteady. Ready for use. - As with all vintage & antique furniture there will be signs of use, marks, wear & tear, etc.
