Description

For sale a rare and very large shop advertising display aneroid barometer in glazed case for Zambrene Weatherproof clothing. This unusually large aneroid barometer presents a 12" ceramic scale with a semi-circular scale painted scale displayed around the top half and measuring 28 to 31 inches of barometric pressure. The outer scale is provided with weather indications in decorative Victorian font and accentuated in red, black and grey colours. The inner dial has dividing lines at the 29 and 30 points. The three sections of the dial created are then provided with suggestions of which type of Zambrene clothing product would suit the expected weather associated with the barometer reading. A large blue steel arrowhead pointer marks the current weather. The lower half is entirely dedicated to the company's trademark, displaying the words "Zambrene Barometer" in bright red painted lettering, and with the company's trademark tree emblem and the words "industriæ nil impossibile" (with industry nothing is impossible). At the base, in smaller but distinct lettering is the barometer maker's name, stating "Instrument by Aitchison & Co Opticians to HM Govt London & Provinces". The ...
