Description

This walnut chest of drawers is from the late 1800s or early 1900s, It is a very neat size but still gives good storage space in the impressively faced drawers with the hand cut dove tails, as can be seen in one of the pictures. At 32ins wide it is quite unusual and could fit into a home that may not be too large, but it can of course fit in anywhere and it certainly looks good. Price wise at £375 we think you will be hard pushed to find a better deal for such a good looking chest in this sort of condition. As mentioned it has great looks with good colour and finish with those impressive facings on the drawers and little bracket feet..... Give us a call if you would like to discuss.
