Description

Superb 18th century mahogany side table with raised and decorated frieze which identifies it as an original Georgian silver table. This elegant piece of furniture has tear drop cabriole legs all around and a finished back so that it can be centre standing. The lock and key are original and the handles, although replacements, are period Georgian handles. The drawer linings are constructed from oak and the entire piece exudes quality of both design and manufacture. Measurements (29" x 33"x 22") For more photos or a more detailed condition report on any of these pieces please contact us any time.
