Description

A superb set of six 18th Century Georgian silver teaspoons from the London Assay Office. These charming and quality examples, are in Old English pattern and have an engraved decoration to the front and back. The bowls are richly gilded and a surviving set of six in this condition, are a wonderful find - particularly as they are over 270 years old. Flatware is rather scarce nowadays due to the great losses, caused by the unscrupulous melting of antique silver for scrap. Therefore a complete matching set from the mid 18th Century, is a particularly good find. Dimensions below. Postage and packing £8.00 UK £16.00 Europe £26.00 Outside Europe Condition :- Excellent, with no holes or dents. The bowl tips to all are very good. Hallmarks :- Present and matching, some loss to Maker's mark. Small items of flatware from this period, were only ever struck with the Maker's mark and Sterling Lion. Date :- London c1750. Maker :- Ebenezer Coker. Length :- 11.2 cms. Bowl width :- 2.2 cms. (widest point).
