Description

We bring to you this excellent rare example of an original 19th century (circa 1890) solid Oak country farmhouse dresser. The back features a shaped fretwork pediment with fan inlay to the centre and 3 plate rack shelves with plate grooves. Flanking the shelves are 4 pigeon hole cubbies above 2 locking cupboards with gothic arch shaped & Mahogany cross-banded doors. The doors have fan inlays which match the pediment and cupboards are complete with 1 shelf inside. The base features a 2 plank top with a simple moulded edge above 3 deep oak lined drawers with dovetailed construction and swan neck brass dropper handles. The front of the drawers feature Mahogany cross-banding with 4 corner shell inlays per drawer. The drawers all lock with their original key and are complete with brass keyhole escutcheons. The base incorporates a rounded and fretworked bottom stretcher to 4 elegantly shaped Queen Anne legs of good proportion and strength. This dresser has a lovely lightly faded original Medium Oak colour with lots of patina and its original French polished finish. This very usable well proportioned dresser is ideal for large hallways, dining rooms, country kitchens or wou...
