Description

Royal House Antiques is delighted to offer for sale this exquisite original fully restored hand dyed brown leather Chesterfield library armchair from the George III era circa 1780. Please note the delivery fee listed is just a guide, it covers within the M25 only for the UK and local Europe only for international, if you would like an accurate quote please send me your postcode and I'll provide you with the exact price. A fantastic looking and well made piece, the chair has been fully restored to include having the leather washed back, its then been hand dyed six times, antiqued, sealed waxed down and polished, the end result is this one of a kind cigar brown colour. The chair is very rare, the rear legs are super sculptural and they have the early Georgian castors elongated castors which I love, they are so elegant. Any connoisseur of fine furniture will know exactly what this chair is as soon as they see it, it is a real statement piece to have in one's home and considered piece's of art in its own right. Think of them as the Rembrandt of armchairs! Dimensions: Height:- 106.5cm Width:- 70cm Depth:- 89cm Seat height:- 54cm. Please note all measurements are taken at...
