Description

This is a very high quality Aesthetic movement desk by makers Bell and Coupland. The whole piece is made of Ash which has a wonderful colour and grain. The ebonised accents really set this apart from other similar desks as this is totally original. The condition overall is very good with minor marks consistent with age and use. The overall size is practical for even taller people as the knee hole is generous. The drawers all have the detailed brass pulls which add a lovely feature to the desk.
