Description

Hi I have for sale a rare striking double fusee lantern clock cycle 1780s English lantern clock made in England by Charles Raymond of Lydeaway this is one of the best I have ever seen a large mega heavy example of English workmanship from a bygone age, offered fully serviced running strong. I think this is an 18th-century case converted in the Victorian age to Fusee but my god what a great job Charles made of it. The Case The case is in solid brass and stands 42cm high x 17cm wide with a depth of 18cm it is in very good original condition with a cast bell at the top and scroll work around the face and dolphins across the top the work is of top quality a very nice heavy striking clock with the solid strike hammer. The Dial The dial is in good condition with a brass silvered chapter ring with engraved black Roman numerals housed within it with a scrolled mask, the clock also retains its original steel handmade ornate hands. The Movement The movement is an eight-day time and strike, which strikes the hours on each hour on the bell to the top a nice crisp sound, the movement has been fully restored with new springs then serviced and oiled so keeping a great time over the e...
