Description

A beautiful and very rare antique North West Persian Kurdish carpet, with the classic Harshang pattern woven with vivid natural dyes on a mid blue ground flanked by generous ivory borders. A spectacular carpet woven around 200 years ago, it is generally in good condition but has some old reweaves mainly to end guard borders. A carpet that is both collectable and super decorative. It would work well in both a traditional and contemporary room setting. Early 19th century.
