Description

A versatile little washstand, superb neat size and in tidy condition with nice turned front legs and lovely graining on the drawer front. This could sit well in a bathroom having the white marble top it will not mark as a wooden top might. There are useful towel rails on each side too. It can also be a very appealing addition to say a conservatory as can be seen in the pictures. It is Continental, dating around 1890 and almost certainly French and is in very tidy condition, not restored but cleaned and rewaxed in our workshops it is ready for a new adventure. The overall width is 82cms and overall height is 79cms, other sizes below are on the body of the table.
