Description

This fine pair of Old Sheffield Plated tankards date to c1780-1800. Both are marked for maker 'T&T BP' and have a very slight difference in design in terms of central band to the larger tankard, otherwise being identical. Both have false bottoms, copper bases and visible seams under the handles. The tankards are in good condition with some copper bleed to body and tops of handles. The larger tankard has a slight ding to the base and the smaller tankard has a stubborn black mark to the side. Both tankards are watertight and have relatively clean interiors for their age. Large tankard - Height to top of handle approx 16.5cm. Base diameter approx 11.5cm. Weight approx 510g Small tankard - Height to top of handle approx 13cm. Base diameter approx 9.5cm. Weight approx 354g
