Description

Antique small oak dresser base This Georgian oak pot board dresser was made circa 1830. It is of a lovely nut-brown colour and a deep patina; this makes it so appealing on the eye. The oak dresser is fitted with 3 drawers along the top, above the double arches to the apron. Having 3 fine ring turned front legs joined to the pot board base, with the usual square back legs to the rear. Finding oak dresser bases that are of this small size is difficult and so do not miss the opportunity. Dresser bases are very versatile and look great in many places around your home. Not only for a dining room or kitchen, but they can also be used as eye catching tables behind a sofa, or in an entrance hall. Imagine the pleasure of ownership this will give you, it has a tactile feel and you get the urge to run your hands across it. Your family and friends are sure to cast an envious eye over your choice. 153cms 60ins 38cms deep 15ins 80cms high 31 1/2ins Dimensions Whilst we take care in measuring the sizes can be slightly different.
