Description

Hi I have for sale a large Victorian English fusee skeleton clock made around the 1860s with the original marble base with ultra-fine six spoke wheel work a really nice original genuine apprentice-built clock not a sixties kit or copy that has just been fully restored so the case is very shiny hence I have tried to capture in my poor photo's and I re-blued all the screws this clock must be seen it is a real piece of art. The clock bears the maker's name of E White who is Edward White Dent's foreman also marked Manchester on the mint white porcelain dial. The Case The case/frame is in solid brass and stands 48cm high 40cm with the e with a depth of 22cm it is in perfect condition standing on a solid white marble base, it is very heavy with thick heavy plates, a top quality old clock. The Dial The dial is in good original condition white porcelain with black Roman numerals and signed E White Manchester, the clock also retains its original blued steel hands. The Movement The movement is an eight-day time only with passing strike so once on each hour, the movement has been fully restored with a new spring added so keeps a great time over the eight days via the original wo...
