Description

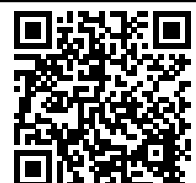

Daum – Arbres en Paysage enneigé– a beautiful Winter Landscape vase. Standing a magnificent 24.5 cm, this piece makes a statement. Superb quality and fine, hand finished detail. The design shows a snowy Winter landscape at dusk with rough terrain in the foreground. The silver birch trees in the foreground have a light dusting of snow. The design has been acid etched, en grisaille and enamelled with excellent colour and contrast. The enamelling is particularly fine and would have taken several layers to achieve such beautiful detail. A faded enamel signature Daum Nancy and with the Cross of Lorraine to the underside. An elegant shape and a statement vase. Excellent original condition. French c 1900 - 1910 The Daum Glassworks was established in Nancy, France in 1875 and is still making glass today albeit of a very different style. The family were originally Lawyers not glassmakers. Jean Daum the father of Antonin and Auguste originally took over the glassworks as part payment of a debt. Auguste (also a lawyer) joined his Father shortly afterwards and started to develop and expand the business. Auguste and Antonin and later Michel were the main family members involved in th...
