Description

Period Georgian mahogany pair of "D end" (Demi lune) tables which link to form an almost circular table to seat up to 6, or in the alternative by the addition of a single leaf extend to oval form to seat up to 8. Each end table can be used independently or linked as described above with the use of brass links to connect, when using the insert leaf each end table is fitted with two pull out rests & the leaf has connection tongues. The end tables are a beautiful faded colour with the leaf being a darker colour due to its past storage. Being genuine antiques these tables have very minor nicks & marks which would be expected in tables of this age, they are sturdy & in good order for use.
