Description

Also known as the Chelaberd or Sunburst kazak for those wonderfully graphic medallions that appear to be exploding, or to resemble an eagle with outstretched wings. Either way, a powerfully graphic rug and with added drama from the rich, saturated natural dyes. The ground colour is quite unusual, a shade of chocolatey aubergine which works effectively to contrast and emphasise the ivory sunburst medallions and forest green, mustard yellow and electric blue running throughout. In full high pile, this antique Caucasian rug should easily go another 140 years. 3'6" x 7'1"
