Description

Fantastic Scottish mahogany drumhead Grandfather / longcase clock from the fabulous Victorian era. The clock has 8 day works that strike the hour on a bell. Its drum head hood is beautifully carved and sits on fantastic mahogany case with lockable door complete with key. The 14" gilt dial has black roman numerals around the edge, in the centre, a decorative floral design with calendar and second dials. A wonderful example having a splendid colour and design and in good working order. Like all antiques there are the odd age-related marks but that does not diminish the outstanding quality of this statement item.
