Description

An 18th century North Wales oak enclosed dresser and shelves. The moulded cornice above three shelves with well shaped sides and fine colour elm backboards, sitting on a base with three shallow top drawers and three centre(opening) drawers with fielded panel cupboard doors either side. Fine colour and patina and in good condition throughout, some of the drawer bottoms have been replaced many years ago and the interior shelves are later additions but useful. Denbighshire Circa 1770. The dresser bears an old Quinneys of Chester label.
