Description

Very well proportioned and wonderful colour to this rich mahogany and brass inlaid Regency revival breakfront sideboard or credenza with brass mounts, brass grille doors with a vintage pleated silk. Sophisticated in its style but with its size, it's not overbearing...the pleated silk doors being a perfect contrast to the well figured mahogany (no problem to change the silk to something of your own choice) and the brass mounts also giving a hint of its quality too. There is a single shelf to each section at half height...useful having the breakfront for deeper storage and flanked by the shallower depth storage. The condition is good although there are some old wounds to the top of the sideboard, shown in the photo showing just the top. Not something that is very noticeable and also when you have it in place with lamps, decanters, picture frames etc, they'll be well hidden! Do get in touch with any queries. Measurements: 35 inches or 89 cm high 55 inches or 140 cm wide 15 inches or 38 cm maximum depth in the centre 13 1/4 inches or 33.5 cm depth to the sides
