Description

Hi I have for sale an apprentice-piece Victorian English fusee skeleton clock made around the 1870s with the original mahogany base with a fine six-spoke wheel work a really nice original genuine apprentice-built clock running via the original pendulum and in the rare seconds dial-in with the main dial. This clock has just been fully serviced so keeping good time over the eight days. The Case The clock is in solid brass and stands 28cm high and 15cm wide with a depth of 8cm it is in perfect condition standing on a solid Mahogany wooden base which is inlaid with brass stringing and a mint old blown glass dome, it is very heavy with thick heavy plates, a top quality old clock. The Dial The dial is in good original condition with black Roman numerals, the clock also retains its original black spade hands. Please note the seconds dial at the top and the second's hand. The Movement The movement is an eight-day time only, the movement has been fully restored new spring was added and then serviced so keeping a great time over the eight days via the original pendulum and is a chain-driven fusee movement. Overall a beautiful English skeleton clock, that looks stunning on displ...
