Description

A pretty Satinwood cupboard dating from the late 19th Century with nice small proportions. The doors are panelled with a square geometric design and the cupboard stands on a plinth base. It comes with its original working key and the doors open to a shelved interior. There is one internal shelf which can be moved between two positions or another shelf could be added if desired. It is good quality and most unusual to see a piece like this in satinwood. It is in good condition for its age and the satinwood has a lovely warm colour. The interior is generally clean and tidy. There are some signs of age and use, some small marks here and there and a few minor splits but nothing detrimental or untoward. There have been some repairs to chips around the bottom plinth but it displays well. It has been cleaned and gently polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Nationwide delivery available through our network of reliable couriers.
