Description

We offer this rare antique Joseph Holdcroft majolica teapot modeled as a Chinese boy on a melon dating from around 1870. This very finely made earthenware teapot portrays a Chinese boy, his head forming the cover, climbing on a melon. The spout forms the stalk while the handle is modeled as a twig. The body of the teapot is painted in yellow, green and blue. Marked Holdcroft to the base. Dated to the 19th century, c. 1870. 301 g 20 cm in length from handle to spout 14 cm in height from base to the top 10 cm in depth. Excellent antique condition, on the lid there is a small chip, which isn't visible when closed. On the boy's nose there is a grey dot, under the glaze, a factory defect. Otherwise wonderful antique condition, it is very difficult to find such a teapot in this good of a condition. Please carefully regard all photos. UK delivery is £12. Upon request, we are willing to provide a quote for shipping outside of UK.
