Description

A lovely miniature apprentice-made kitchen dresser dating from the late 19th / early 20th Century. It is a charming piece made from pine with its original stained finish. It has two upper glazed doors and two drawers above two cupboard doors in the lower section. The top interior is painted a pale blue and has a single shelf. Each cupboard and drawer has a small turned knob. It is a good quality piece and has been very well made. It is in good original condition and has a nice patina. There are some general signs of age and use, some minor marks, knocks and a few small chips but nothing detrimental. There have been some repairs to the hinges but they are strong and sturdy. There are some minor historic signs of worm which has all been treated as a precaution and hasn't affected the piece structurally or aesthetically. It has been lightly cleaned and polished and overall it displays very well. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Tracked UK delivery £15.
