Description

A large impressive inlaid bronze okimono of an archer by Yoshimitsu, the Samuria archer about to release his arrow. A larger size than usual and very nice quality, on the original stand, which is also a good quality model. The figure is in wonderful condition, the stand has the odd minor scuff, but no brakes or repairs and is in original condition. Late Meiji, signed on a gold seal. The measurements are extreme sizes on the stand.
