

SA976874

Pair of cast iron lion and serpent sculptures

Price

SoldItem Reference: SA976874*Date of manufacture: 19th Century

Description

A pair of early Nineteenth Century cast iron sculptures of a lion crushing a serpent; the lion portrayed with bared teeth and a wonderful flowing mane is crushing the serpent under his right paw, raised on a beautifully figured portoro marble plinth. The lion crushing the serpent is an allegorical reference to good overcoming evil.

Internal Ref: BA1119

Seller Details

Reindeer Antiques

81 Kensington Church Street London W8 4BG United Kingdom

Tel: 020 7937 3754

International Tel: +44 20 7937 3754