Description

This lovely French walnut farmhouse table dates to the turn of the 20th century, circa 1900. It has a drawer at either end with attractive metal pull handles, both of them a useful long size, and both properly lined with a white fabric printed with a red figurative historical landscape pattern. The cabriole legs finish in pretty hoof shaped feet and there is a shaped apron around all four sides. The piece is well polished and will make a great addition to a country kitchen, but could also be used as an elegant dining table and will easily seat six. Dating to circa 1900, this is made of walnut and originates from France. In good age related condition, this has a small chip to one of the hoof shaped feet, but this is not obtrusive. It otherwise has only the wear expected from long use.
