Description

A sought after 18th Century silver table spoon, by a female silversmith. This lovely example is in Hanoverian Pattern with the original pricked initials D over E+C to the reverse of the shank. This reveals that the spoon was a marriage spoon, with the D being the initial for the Surname and E for the husband and C for the wife. The spoons also has the additional benefit of being made by a mid 18th Century female silversmith, Elizabeth Oldfield. A good collector's item, still usable today. Dimensions below. Postage and packing £18.00 UK £16.00 Europe £22.00 Outside Europe Condition :- Excellent, with no dents or splits. The bowl tip is good. Hallmarks :- Readable. Date :- London 1754. Maker :- Elizabeth Oldfield. Length :- 20 cms. Bowl width :- 4.4 cms. Depth :- 1.5 cms.
