Description

This very neat inlaid chest of drawers dates from the very early years of the 1900s. Looking at the condition it is not easy to imagine so much time has passed, longer than any human on the planet we suspect. It is a really rare size at 84cms wide, so superb if you have a narrow gap you need to fill. The drawer facings, the top and sides are all solid Mahogany and the linings all solid Oak. It has dove tailed joints on the drawers of course and attractive inlays on the top and on the drawer facings. It has good size drawers for its size so can offer maximum storage. The handles are all original and all in all a rather super little chest of drawers in excellent condition, the body of the chest has been cleaned and refinished in our workshops hence its great condition.Sorry reserved 1st day on sale..... We also have another very nice quality chest of similar age and quality that is a more normal size, check out our own web pages for more information or give us a call. 01565 874075
