Description

Lurcher, whippet or greyhound, I don't know! But this is clearly a sight hound and the craftsmanship and detail in its manufacture is stunning. The raised paw and turned head, the ears, the eyes... it's truly a work of a talented sculptor/jeweller. The muscle definition in the haunches and hocks. Originally this piece was gilded as there are traces of gold still over the body, but I imagine that over the years this has worn off as it is such a tactile piece. The collar even has a suspended ball/prey bell. Approx 3.5x2.5 cm
