Description

A fabulous Victorian Jewellery box dating to the late 19th century, around 1880 / 1890 with a gentle domed top with flush polished brass carrying handle. Made from the highly decorative Burl Ash / Hungarian Ash / Silky Australian Oak (all sorts of names are used to describe this highly decorative wavy timber, most unusual as these boxes were usually made from Walnut, making this one stand out from the crowd. the box is in superb condition with a complete original interior having been superbly preserved for the last 120 years. The lid opens to reveal a fully fitted jewellery compartment lined in silk and velvet, incorporating a central compartment for a pocket watch, perfect today for a wristwatch or bracelet. The interior of the lid is beautifully tufted in silk. All the brass fittings have been professionally repolished to gleam with the carrying handle being lucky enough to have been stamped with the design registration number, 62264 which dates this piece to 1886, Victorian in era. The doors are fitted with thick bevelled glass with three drawers behind again lined with rich blue silk. A real gem, in excellent condition (minor wear commensurate with age) and complete...
