Description

A swarve Rosewood swivelling tub chair in a warm oxblood leather by Druce & Co, London, C.1840. The deep buttoned back rest above turned spindles on tapering reeded legs, raised on brass and ceramic casters. Druce & Co were known to have 'one of the most varied and extensive stocks in the Kingdom' during the 19th and early 20th Century. The firm was founded by Thomas Charles Druce in 1840, based in Baker Street and Portman Square, London.
