Description

A super matched pair of Edwardian cupboards. Originally these were coal purdoniums but had had their liners taken out and the insides polished. Now used mainly as bedside cupboards with the fall front used for magazines, slippers etc. This pair are of exceptional quality with superb inlaid panels and brass gallery tops. One of the mirrors has a number of blemishes but overall they are in exceptionally good condition and still retaining their original castors to the turned feet. Might split give us a call.
