A very rare opportunity to own an antique English Regency dining room table, in the manner of Gillows, and Circa 1820 in date. The table is made of beautiful solid flame mahogany, this can be seen in the photos of the top with its fabulous swirling flame patterns. It has a winding mechanism with three leaves that can be added or removed as required to suit the occasion, and it can seat ten people in comfort. The table has superbly carved corners and is raised on four beautiful gadrooned reeded tapering legs that terminate in their original brass cap castors. This table was made by a master craftsman and should last for generations more. Buying this antique table could save up to 0.46 tonnes of CO2e compared to buying a new dining table.
