Description

A lovely walnut cutlery chest cabinet. We date this cabinet to 1876. It would make a lovely collectors cabinet if the internal fittings were removed. The cabinet consists of two side hinged panel doors fitted with a lock. Internally there are 6 drawers with blue baize lined cutlery dividers. The drawers are fitted with lovely ornate campaign style handles. There is a presentation plaque to the top of the cabinet dated 1876 and there are brass recessed carrying handles to both sides. The cabinet has a height of 17" (43cm), a width of 22" (56cm) at widest and a depth of 15.5" (40cm) at deepest. This lovely cabinet remains in very good solid condition with only very minor surface markings commensurate with age and usage including some indentations to some edges and the base. The left hand side has a couple of minor lighter marks. This remains a very stylish and elegant cabinet which will continue to provide good service for many years to come.
